Pubs

The Draft House Gastro Pub opened its doors in the village of Strandhill in May 2015. Since our opening we have strived to create a unique and quirky gastro pub within the vibrant seaside hot-spot whatever the weather.

At The Draft House Gastro Pub, 'We do things differently' - we've reinvented the rule book when it comes to eating out in the North West of Ireland. Pinned between Knocknarea mountain and the wild Atlantic, we use a trove of locally sourced ingredients to make the finest food, and expertly curate an array of craft beers to accompany you on your gastronomic journey.

You'll find an extensive list of whiskeys, gins, rums and tequilas in our bar. Which was designed and decorated by local artists and assembled from reclaimed materials. So whether you're in the mood for a meal with all the trimmings or just a leisurely pint call in and relax.

From farm to fork, at The Draft House, we pride ourselves on using local, organic and artisan food suppliers in order to offer our customers an exceptional sensory experience.
