IRISH FOODSERVICE MARKET DIRECTORY

Introduction

Bord Bia's 2017 Irish Foodservice Market Directory includes over 110 up-to-date, detailed profiles of key foodservice operators and the wholesale distributors that service them.

Eleven new profiles have been included in 2017, flagged as NEW* in the Table of Contents and within the profile heading itself.

Once again this year we've included some 'Top Tips' for producers that are interested in better servicing the market. They're not listed in any particular order and they are not definitive, but if taken on board and actioned, they will assist in delivering new business.

How to Use the Directory

In an effort to help producers understand and target the channels most appropriate to their own business, the Directory has been segmented by Commercial and Institutional channels as outlined in our Foodservice Market Map.

Profiles contained in this directory concentrate on the larger chain operators and do not include independent outlets. Any companies referenced by operators as 'Distribution Providers' are subsequently profiled in detail under the Foodservice Distributors section. While the Directory provides a strong representation of the sector, it does not claim to provide a complete listing of all industry players.

Operators and distributors emphasised that they do not wish to be 'cold called' by producers that have not undertaken research into their foodservice offering and determined where opportunities may lie within their business. All producers should conduct considerable research (including site visits) in advance of approaching buyers listed in this Directory.

Methodology

James Burke & Associates were appointed by Bord Bia to compile the six new profiles in this directory. An overview of the total number of profiles included in the 2017 Directory is as follows:

Commercial	No. of profiles
○ Quick Service Restaurants	9
○ Full Service Restaurants & Pub Groups	13
○ Coffee Shops	8
○ Hotels	8
○ Leisure/Events	6
○ Travel	7
Institutional
○ Business and Industry	11
○ Government Contracts	4
Business to Business	2
Distributors	44
TOTAL	112

In order to refresh profiles included in Bord Bia's 2016 Irish Foodservice Market Directory, all operators and distributors were emailed a copy of their existing profile and asked to amend any information that required updating, or alternatively to confirm that the existing information could be used for our 2017 Directory.

While the profiles were signed off as being accurate at the time of going to print, producers should conduct their own research before approaching any distributor or operator as future changes may occur.

This Directory aims to provide a strong reference tool for producers either seeking to enter the foodservice sector or for those already established who wish to maintain and build sales.

TOP 10 PRODUCER TIPS FOR BUILDING A SUCCESSFUL FOODSERVICE BUSINESS

1. Review each of the foodservice channels and identify products within your business with potential to fit one or more channels. Have a structured approach to dealing with the foodservice sector and create prioritised lists to help focus on the market channels most appropriate to your business. Ensure that you conduct research in advance of approaching buyers – in addition to reviewing their profile and online presence, ensure that you have visited at least one site and observed the customer profile and existing food and beverage offering.
2. Remember the importance of service in foodservice. Ensure paperwork is provided as requested, orders are fulfilled as specified every time and product quality is consistent. Labelling and product specifications must comply with all FSAI and EU legislation. Ensure the packaging is correct and ‘fit for purpose’. Speaking to relevant industry contacts will provide insights regarding portion control etc. and help producers design and deliver appropriate packaging.
3. Understanding international foodservice trends will help producers anticipate the needs of tomorrow and feed into a cycle of product innovation. Ensure that innovation is taking place at all levels and be proactive in bringing new products and concepts to the market. Also ensure that you are well informed with what’s happening on the domestic market – sign up to Bord Bia’s monthly Foodservice Newsletters and investigate other trade information alerts and/or publications.
4. Relationships are key to developing sales. Ensure you maintain ongoing communication with your customers. Be proactive and realise the importance of telling the provenance story. Remember that the sales process cannot be passive.
5. Continued price pressure means that new ways to cut costs at manufacturing level need to be identified. As a producer, ensure that your company has embraced lean manufacturing principles. Focus on improving product efficiencies and eliminate unnecessary production costs in order to allow for greater price competitiveness. Think about opportunities for delivering a competitive ‘per portion’ cost.

6. Develop Key Account Management skills within your business to manage important foodservice accounts (both distributors and operators). Understand the needs of your key customers and manage these accordingly. If it's not possible to assign responsibility for the development of your foodservice business internally, then consider employing external expertise.
7. Develop a partnership model. Work hand in hand with your distributors to get closer to the end customer – it will provide producers with a deeper understanding of the challenges facing foodservice operators and in turn identify existing or new products that can potentially address these challenges. Educate your distributor's team and work closely with them to monitor feedback, ensure that stock is moving and drive sales.
8. Develop a strong promotional calendar in consultation with your distribution partner (and end operator, if appropriate). Think about building brand awareness, attending trade shows, maximising PR opportunities, training distributor sales teams, interacting with relevant Trade Associations, having a social media presence and organising product sampling. Build a foodservice 'marketing toolkit' to support your product range – add a foodservice tab to your website, develop foodservice specific promotional leaflets etc.
9. Think about how your product proposition can add value all along the supply chain. What's in it for each player? Think about providing a 'total solution' that can ultimately help deliver what the end consumer is looking for.
10. Make time for foodservice in your business and ensure that you have a strategy in place. Producers need to ensure that clearly defined objectives exist within the business in order to grow foodservice sales, with provision for necessary resources to service this sector. Harness any existing foodservice product category research and/or consumer insights to guide your strategy – Bord Bia's Consumer and Market Insights Department is a useful resource to this end.

The sandwich range offers hot and cold options. The company targets a wide range of consumers through the various outlets they operate.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	AIL group will continue to open new outlets and sees many opportunities for Irish suppliers. The company is proud of its Irish ownership, its commitment to Irish ingredients and the contribution that it makes to the Irish economy. Across all its food businesses, the company welcomes proposals from suppliers that will enhance its existing offerings. The company is constantly looking for innovations in its menus and presentations from Irish producers are a regular occurrence. In particular, there are opportunities with the O'Briens / Bagel menus for new bagel fillings e.g. meats and cheeses. The dessert offering can be widened and there are opportunities for the producers of pastries. In Abrakebabra, the menu is the process of being revamped and there is an opportunity for more fresh produce. O'Briens is open to proposals from Irish manufacturers of cheeses, meats and deli produce. The company has a strong focus on sourcing locally and is continuing to look for products that can be sourced in Ireland.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	Key elements of the company's purchasing policy are product quality, supplier's service record, supplier's reputation, logistical capabilities and competitive pricing. The company visits the sites of its suppliers for a factory walk to get a greater understanding of the supplier's business and suppliers are asked to complete a questionnaire before supply commences. The approved supplier list is decided by the Managing Director, David Zebedee who will agree terms with suppliers when compiling the approved supplier list. Some locally available items such as fruit and vegetables are not included on the supplier list. For example, meat products are all cooked, sliced and frozen. Some vegetables and cheese are also prepared.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	One key area for growth for the Subway® menu is the different ‘Day Parts’ offered, i.e. accessing different sales opportunities throughout the day (breakfast/brunch/lunch/dinner/supper). Potential new suppliers should contact the IPC Europe via the website (www.eipc.eu/Supplier-Enquiries). There is room for brands in the operation, predominantly in the snacks and beverages categories. Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	BRC is mandatory for all suppliers to the Subway® system. Subway® also carries out its own risk-based audits. Suppliers pay for audits. All purchasing is centralised through the IPC Europe Purchasing team. There are tenders for all products. The regularity of these varies by product category. The IPC Europe Purchasing team sets the terms for all suppliers. The preferred case size and shelf life expectations and requirements vary according to product category and are determined by Subway® specifications.
Distribution providers	Stores order through each country's appointed distributor. In the UK this is Bidfood and in Northern Ireland and Republic of Ireland it is Musgrave Foodservice. Orders are placed online and by phone. Similar distribution arrangements are in place across mainland Europe. In some cases suppliers deliver into the distributor, in other cases IPC Europe arranges collection. This is reviewed on a case-by-case basis.
Advice to new suppliers	New suppliers should contact IPC Europe via the IPC Europe website: www.eipc.eu/Supplier-Enquiries All potential new suppliers must express their interest using this link. Be aware that scale of production, capacity and contingency are extremely important for most products supplied to the Subway® system. There are very few niche suppliers and only in instances where stores specifically request to source franchisor-approved, locally produced products.

Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Supermac's has a tradition of working very closely with all their suppliers, having formed excellent working relationships over the years. Supermac's has worked on advertising campaigns alongside local farmers and producers to promote their support of Irish and local business to the general public. There are opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers for non-core products. The company recommends potential suppliers visit its sites to identify opportunities outside of the core range e.g. salads and ice cream.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	Supermac's has a policy of purchasing all of its meat products from producers on the island of Ireland. All beef burgers and fresh chicken products are born, reared and butchered in Ireland. Supermac's has built very strong working relationships with its suppliers since it started in business in 1978. Working relationships have been built on trust and their suppliers know what standard of hygiene and quality is expected. The main factors influencing decision making are firstly quality, secondly continuity of supply and thirdly price. Current suppliers are audited regularly and must comply with strict accreditation requirements. Supermac's operate a Vendor Approval Listing and only suppliers that have been audited and meet the required standards will be permitted to supply into the chain. There is no charge for carrying out the audit on vendors. Third party certification such as BRC or EFSIS is often required. Purchasing is centralised. Supermac's operate a purchase order system and orders are usually placed via email. The Purchasing Manager makes the purchasing decisions and places the orders. Supermac's backhauls from current suppliers as it has its own transport system.

Supermac's recently launched its 'Fresh 5oz Beef Burger' in 2015, followed by the "Fresh Chicken Breast Sandwich" in 2016 and "Fresh Grilled Chicken Sandwich" in 2017. Supermac's has both chilled and frozen food storage facilities in all of its outlets.

Maxol Ireland

Address: 3 Custom House Plaza, IFSC, Dublin 1

Website: www.maxol.ie

Phone: 01 607 6800

Email: post@maxol.ie

Company Profile

The Maxol Group is Ireland's leading family-owned oil and forecourt convenience company. It was established in Ireland in 1920 by William McMullan and continues to grow today under the ownership of the McMullan family.

Maxol has been investing and expanding in recent years and currently has a network of 234 service stations, of which 115 are company owned. The Maxol Group had an annual turnover of €551m in 2016 and was voted the most reputable oil company in Ireland for four consecutive years between 2012 and 2015 by Corporate Reputations independent survey.

Maxol's business model is to license their company-owned network to locally based business men and women, who are experienced in retailing and connected with the local community. Maxol does however invest heavily in the design, fit out and maintenance of each service station, and works closely with its retail partners and suppliers in developing its consumer food solutions.

The company employs directly and indirectly more than 2,000 people across the island of Ireland. BWG supports the Maxol business in the Republic of Ireland and the Henderson group supports the Maxol in Northern Ireland.

To date in 2017, Maxol has opened three new developments in Tannaghmore, Co. Antrim and Lucan and Ballycoolin, Co. Dublin which host a suite of brands, including O'Briens Sandwich Cafes, Bagel Factory, Abrakebabra, Chopped, Kanoodle and Moreish.

In 2016, Maxol's largest development to date M3 Mulhuddart Services in south Dublin won 'Best Forecourt in Ireland' at Irelands Forecourt & Convenience Awards 2016.

Maxol continues to expand their network in 2017 with a pipeline of various further site developments planned in Cork, Dublin, Limerick and Antrim.

In 2013 Maxol launched their own food brand Moreish, a new look contemporary styled cafe with a fresh food menu that aims to offer customers tasty, filling and healthier options. Today, the Moreish brand has been launched in over 31 sites with plans for further expansion in 2017/2018.

Maxol hold franchises for multiple innovative food and hot beverage offers including:

	Chopped, Bewley’s Coffee, Insomnia, Kanoodle O’ Briens Sandwich Cafes, Bagel Factory and Abrakebabra. This list will continue to evolve as Maxol create a catalogue of innovative food brands that cater to customer trends in different locations around Ireland.
Relevant purchasing contacts	Head of Retail Development: Des Duffy Email: des.duffy@maxol.ie Phone: (01) 607 6835 Food Concepts Executive: Aoife Kearney Email: Aoife.kearney@maxol.ie Phone: (01) 607 6800
Product mix	The diversity of the company’s offer has increased with the development of newer larger service stations, and has moved away from the traditional small convenience format. Customers’ expectations of forecourt convenience have greatly increased over time and the offer has been broadened to move into the foodservice market, which describes all food consumed out of home. The Maxol Moreish deli has been the backbone of this emerging offer and the introduction of additional franchise brands is further raising and meeting customers’ expectations and pulling people to the sites. The Maxol Fresh food brand Moreish consists of a range of signature sandwiches that are designed as fresh, filling and healthy options for busy consumers who require quality food options. In addition to Moreish, Maxol works with a diverse range of innovative food brands such as Chopped and Insomnia that cater for a wide range of consumer needs. Maxol believes each site should be a food destination rather than a typical fuel stop, a place where consumers can enjoy high quality food options. With this increasing focus on providing foodservice, the company is now also providing seated café areas, toilet facilities, Wi-Fi etc. on many sites.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Maxol is focusing on the following key opportunities: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Food to go: through providing a high quality pre-packed sandwich and salad range. - Expanding the dayparts: focusing on evening trade and catering for consumer needs after lunchtime. - Further development of Moreish as a brand, evolving the offering in response to new consumer flavour trends in the marketplace as well as maintaining consistency across the brand. - New site developments: launching new sites with innovative food brands that will cater to different dayparts and target consumers. - Forming alliances with key suppliers to bring innovation to the retail network.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	The Moreish cafes nationwide are supplied principally through Aryzta Food Solutions (Aryzta) who are committed to sourcing high quality ingredients to ensure that Moreish cafes produce high quality, consistent food offerings.

	Aryzta also supply each site with an array of Cuisine de France products - pastries, scones, muffins etc. Other fresh food suppliers will be considered to drive the Moreish brand offer further into the future. For Aryzta, all food producers and the suppliers handling foods must have HACCP in place. BRC is an additional accreditation which almost all suppliers to Aryzta have in place. Nevertheless, other accreditation procedures are also accepted such as IFS, ISO, Halal etc. Aryzta will also undertake audits at supplier's premises. For suppliers to Aryzta purchasing is centralised. For Maxol, the Head of Retail Development and the Food Concepts Executive influence the purchasing decisions. Aryzta agrees terms with Maxol's Head of Retail Development and each site then places the orders for the Moreish brand. The frequency of goods inwards and delivery windows vary, but fresh is daily and ambient goods when required. For suppliers to Aryzta, products are delivered 6 days a week. For suppliers to Aryzta, orders are placed over the phone and via fax. The preferred case size is product dependent and on whether the product is for the deli or shop side. Smaller packaging is required for chilled products for the deli side of the business. This is not a concern for ambient. For suppliers to Aryzta, products are delivered in cases (boxes). Allergen information and shelf life analysis are key requirements for all products.
Distribution providers	The main distributor providers to Maxol are BWG, Aryzta Food Solutions, Henderson's and Bewley's.
Advice to new suppliers	Potential new suppliers should contact Aoife Kearney, Food Concepts Executive, via email.
Other information	LTA's (Long Term Agreements) are in place with key suppliers. As a business there is more engagement with the consumer with chilled products, although each site does have both chilled and frozen storage facilities.

Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	The company has re-focused the type of food product it sells and there is a shift from frozen to fresh products. The shift to fresh products results in an opportunity for more locally produced products. The company is seeking to reduce its carbon footprint. Most products are currently supplied through Musgrave Wholesale Partners with very little direct to store. The company does not envisage additional product offerings, rather potential import substitution opportunities for existing products.

Relevant purchasing contacts	Leylie Hayes is the Executive Chef and has responsibility for purchasing all of the raw materials and dry goods used in the kitchens. Email: leyliehayes@gmail.com Elaine O'Connor purchases for Retail and Foodhalls. Email: elaineoc@avoca.ie Christopher Graham of Aramark also supports: Email: graham-christopher@aramark.ie
Product mix	The eating experience revolves around informal dining with strong emphasis on quality and taste. The cuisine could be best described as 'modern Irish', which uses local ingredients in traditional and newer dishes. Very little food is purchased in any kind of pre-prepared state, except for some sauces and items like mayonnaise. The largest categories purchased by Avoca are meat, vegetables and dairy products.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Avoca has a strong policy to support artisan producers and while the company maintains long-term relationships with most of their producers it is also open to new products.

	Products must be of a suitable quality and profile that suits the Avoca brand. The price must also allow a sufficient margin. Avoca is most interested in raw ingredients that could be used in the production of their own brand products. New opportunities are mainly in the form of high quality ‘artisan’ food products, such as smoked trout and some artisan cheeses. A growth area would be in items which are perceived by consumers as being part of a ‘healthy’ diet. The only types of produce that are purchased that are not Irish and/or local are those that can only be produced at a profit overseas, eg Olive Oil and tomato purée.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	New suppliers are required to fill out a questionnaire. Avoca expects all suppliers to have the most up to date health and safety documentation and to be compliant with HACCP, etc. A team from Avoca will sometimes visit artisan producers for on-site checks, usually when first commencing business with them Quality, price and service are the key decision factors. Producers wishing to approach Avoca must be able to offer a high level of service and be organised to meet delivery times and distribution requirements. All purchasing is centralised with decisions made by the Executive Chef Leylie Hayes. There is an approved supplier list. Twice or three times a year, there is a review of suppliers in relation to both product specification and price. Orders are placed either by telephone, fax or email. In relation to packaging, Avoca prefer larger packs to small as this is more economical. There are no formal specifications for packaging but all must conform to the required legal standards.
Distribution providers	Avoca has a centralised production kitchen located in the IDA Business Park in Bray, Co. Wicklow. Products are transported to all branches from here. Avoca has three food vans that deliver to the branches on a daily basis. All new producers are required to deliver directly to store or kitchen at a frequency that is determined by shelf life and freshness of product requirements. For products that have a very short shelf life there may be a requirement to deliver six days a week. Avoca advocates that producers supply longer life products in greater volume and deliver less frequently.

Advice to new suppliers	Producers wishing to make contact with Avoca should do so by email and, with agreement, drop samples into the Head Office, which is based in Kilmacanogue. Avoca emphasises that its Chefs and Executive Chef do not have time for long meetings, as it is a live working environment and, therefore, email and product samples are the best way to establish contact. When producers are either planning to grow a crop or produce a product which they are targeting at supplying directly to Avoca, they should first check that there is a market for this product. Avoca places strong emphasis on accurate labelling of products, both in terms of country of origin and other information such as shelf life. While Avoca recognises that artisan producers should receive a premium for their product, it also emphasises that this premium should be realistic in the current economic climate if the chances of securing a listing are to be maximised. The company's preference for any high-volume lines is to purchase in pallet quantities.
Additional information	There is room for other brands in Avoca's operation. However the company trades under its own brand name and works hard to grow it. There is greater growth in chilled food products than frozen ones. Avoca do not use many frozen products. The company has storage facilities for both chilled and frozen foods.

Visitors to museums and tourist attractions tend to prefer a more identifiably Irish offering, whilst shopping centre customers tend to be more price conscious, but still request a high level of food quality. The company strives to supply this high quality food, along with exceptional customer service.
Relevant purchasing contacts	Purchasing and Operations Manager: Donnchadha Reid Phone: 01 468 5000 Email: marketing@brambles.ie
Product mix	Brambles' food offering is very varied, anything from a scone and latte to a three course meal. Breakfasts, lunches, dinners and snacks are catered for in all branches. The cuisine is prepared using locally sourced Irish produce handled with love and care and attention to detail by a team of 20 chefs and bakers. All of Brambles food offerings are prepared from scratch in the company's 10,000 sq. foot central production facility in Dublin 24 and redistributed to their individual units. The company does not use pre-prepared meal ingredients, except in the case of bakery products where pre-prepared egg products are used. The company expanded its central production kitchen in 2010 and now all bread, cakes and pastries are made on-site.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Key areas for growth for Brambles are to open more café-delis (but only when the location and commercials are right) and hopefully the

	recent growth in catering at tourist locations will continue as the tourist market continues to perform. There are few areas of growth for specific products, but Brambles are seeking new offerings in all areas of the business. Brambles only use the best of ingredients and only use Irish meat products. Brambles are open to approaches by new Irish suppliers with good quality, locally sourced Irish produce. Brambles only source ingredients from outside of Ireland when they are not available here. All the main products used, (except some fruit and salad items) are Irish sourced as this is a feature of the company's offering. The higher cost of some Irish foods, especially chicken, ham and bacon means that guaranteeing Irish ingredients has an effect on the price at which meals can be offered to consumers.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	The purchasing policy is to source local Irish produce and all meat and poultry must be certified Irish. Consistency of supply, price and quality are key considerations in purchasing decisions. The company deals with a range of suppliers but will always consider new ones as long as they meet legal Health and Safety requirements. All purchasing is centralised through the Purchasing Manager. The only exceptions are for bulk ambient products and drinks at busy times like Christmas when the branches order directly for delivery to store. The Purchasing Manager agrees the terms and places the orders. The ordering process is usually by email and may subsequently be by telephone for regularly purchased items from suppliers of long standing. The initial orders are usually made following conversations with the Purchasing Manager to ensure that both parties understand what is required. Brambles appreciate proactive suppliers that approach them with solutions and ideas that add value. Communication is key and helps build relationships. Goods inwards is located at the central production facility in Dublin 24 and delivery windows are before 7am for meat products, fruit and vegetables and 10am for dry ingredients. Deliveries are taken 6 days per week. Brambles have four of their own vans for deliveries to their branches. The company does not have formal audit procedures; however suppliers are visited from time to time. No charges apply for these visits.

	Ingredients for all fresh food offerings are bought in fresh and chilled. There company does not purchase frozen produce except ice-cream. Most types of packaging are acceptable but wooden and some plastic packaging such as crates are not taken in by the company but are returned immediately to the supplier. There are no particular labelling requirements other than those required by law and normal industry standards. The case size and minimum shelf life requirement varies by product.
Distribution providers	Brambles deals direct with Irish suppliers for most of their ingredients. However, for small quantities of dry goods, they use Musgrave Foodservices, BWG and Pallas Foods.
Advice to new suppliers	New suppliers should contact the Purchasing Manager by email in the first instance and then arrange a conversation as indicated above. Any sales pitch would need to be aware of the company’s market positioning which involves a high emphasis on product quality and the use of Irish ingredients.
Other information	Credit terms are 45 days. The company does not have formal long term price agreements with suppliers, but tries to keep prices constant for at least 180 days. As Brambles makes all of their food offerings in-house, there is no room for brands on the fresh food side. The only brands in their stores are for popular ambient goods such as crisps and carbonated drinks. Their coffee is also non-branded and fair-trade.

Relevant purchasing contacts	F&B Development Manager: Mieke Rippen Email: mieke@eegroup.ie Preferred method of contact is via email.
Product mix	Both TGI Friday's and Hard Rock Café provide lunch and evening meals which are based on traditional American food. Menus include chicken wings and strips, potato skins, nachos, beef steaks, pork ribs, burgers, open sandwiches and seafood. Food is bought in fresh and/or frozen with items such as ribs and some chicken dishes pre-cooked. Dante restaurants offer traditional Italian cuisine with a strong emphasis on pizzas. All of the above outlets serve a wide range of beverages and desserts. In Hard Rock Café, the desserts are made to order. TGI Friday's desserts are franchise specific and sourced in the UK. The Leisureplex diners provide a standard fast food offering consisting of burgers, nuggets, chips and beverages. Turnover for the five Leisureplex diners is relatively small. Mao is open seven days a week and offers a range of healthy lunchtime and evening meals, with an emphasis on fresh ingredients. Starbucks is also open seven days a week and offers breakfast and lunch menus as well as cakes, pastries, muffins, sandwiches and a range of teas and coffees. The target markets for all the restaurant offerings are families and the menus and prices are family oriented. Mao is also family oriented, but the offerings have also proved particularly popular for lunchtime and pre-theatre diners, where time is of the essence.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Innovation and new product development for TGI Friday's and Hard Rock Café is driven by the franchisors in the USA. Menus are devised and set in the USA by the franchisors. This does present an additional challenge for prospective local producers as approval must be sought from the US franchisor before the Irish operator can purchase the products. However, Hard Rock Café allows some local suppliers. There continues to be an opportunity for Irish suppliers for innovative and relevant products that match the varying brands requirements. Dairy products are sourced in Ireland – there is an opportunity for the further processing, particularly of cheese, on a large scale.

	An opportunity exists for the manufacture of grated and sliced Colby cheese, which is used by the company, but which it has not been offered by an Irish producer. The company monitors its vegetable supply closely. There is little room for new beef suppliers to the market as operators are satisfied with the existing product offer. The group is always looking for new desserts to place on menus, but where appropriate, the desserts must be capable of keeping their eating quality after freezing and thawing. There is a general opportunity for Irish suppliers of most items if they are able to add value to their products aimed at the foodservice sector. The ratio between chilled and frozen ingredient purchase remains unchanged, with most product purchased chilled. Mao uses only fresh produce in the preparation of its meals In the cases of TGI Friday's and Hard Rock Café, many of the products used are from franchisor approved product lists.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	Suppliers should discuss with the Entertainment Enterprise Head of Group Procurement whether the proposed products for supply require franchisor approval. If franchisor approval is not required, then the supplier can deal directly with the Entertainment Enterprise Head of Group Procurement If franchisor approval is required, the first step is to establish the level of interest in the product with the Entertainment Enterprise Group Head of Group Procurement. If it's accepted that the proposal should be progressed, contact should then be made with the US office to seek a listing. In the case of products for which the Head of Group Procurement has discretion in the purchasing decision, quality is the most important factor, followed by price. Musgrave Foodservices, Dublin Food Sales and Foodco provides distribution solutions to the restaurants. Proposed products for supply are tasted by a development panel consisting of the Head of Group Procurement, Area Managers and Kitchen Managers. Deliveries are required prior to noon and a delivery frequency of up to three days per week suffices, with the exception of Christmas. The restaurants are open at 10a.m. for receiving merchandise. Orders are placed by each restaurant over the phone or fax.

Distribution providers	Musgrave Foodservices provide a storage and distribution service for ambient, chilled and frozen products. Much of the distribution was rationalised through Musgrave Foodservice in November 2008. Dublin Food Sales serve the majority of the distribution needs for dry goods. Caterway and Global supply fruit and vegetables.
Advice to new suppliers	New suppliers should contact the Purchasing Manager via email. They should ascertain from an early point whether the purchasing decision for their product rests with the Irish office or the franchisor Head Office in the United States.
Other Information	Credit terms are not published, but the company always seeks to develop mutually beneficial long term relationships with its suppliers. Some branded items are purchased, but mainly in the dry goods sector and for use in places where the final consumer would expect to see them such as table sauces and mustard.

Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	One major growth area is in the catering business, particularly in sports and nutrition and event catering. The cafes and restaurants are looking to increase their breakfast, brunch and afternoon snack offerings. Evening menu is also popular, running Wednesday - Sunday nights (Swords is Wednesday - Saturday only).

	The Company is always looking for ideas for large scale event catering i.e. canapes and fresh hot food ideas for large groups of 150+ guests in the form of both ingredients and ready to bake products. All products are sourced from Irish suppliers except for country specific products e.g. Italian dried products and oils.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	All meat used by the company is Irish. There is a preference to source from Irish suppliers as this as a USP on their menus and consumers are more aware of the importance of supporting Irish producers. The company tenders annually with regular suppliers. The more accreditations a supplier has the better e.g. the Bord Bia Quality Assurance Mark for meats. HACCP is a minimum pre-requisite and all products must be fully traceable. All suppliers are visited twice per annum to review their premises. The Company is also very strict about temperature controls on vans and produce. Products must be delivered to each outlet. The Head of Operations sets the pricing and the Chefs at each outlet place orders via both email and phone. Most suppliers are set up for online ordering. The Catering Kitchen Manager and Head of Operations influence purchasing decisions. The preferred case size is product dependent. In terms of containers, they must be durable and non-porous e.g. plastic. No wooden crates are acceptable. The place and date of production are required on all products and shelf life expectations and requirements vary from 3 days for fresh meat and fish to 6 months for dried goods.
Distribution providers	Discuss with the Head of Operations.
Advice to new suppliers	Email the Head of Operations to ascertain what key products are required and to arrange a meeting. The Head of Operations brings chefs to producers' premises for a demonstration of their products. Suppliers are requested to bring samples along to pre-arranged meetings rather than sending them into Head Office. Quality is the number one criteria in purchasing decisions, with competitive pricing a close second.

Other information	Credit terms for new suppliers are 30 days. There are LTA's (Long Term Agreements) with some suppliers. There is only room for brands in the drinks range. Although both chilled and frozen storage facilities are available, there is a preference for chilled products as the Company uses very few frozen products.

Its latest concept in The Square Shopping Centre in Tallaght is more akin to a food hall with street-food, Asian fusion, Egg station, Patisserie, Pizza, and Coffee and Cake offers. Everything in Kay's is homemade, with nothing bought in apart from Danish pastries and croissants. Meats are cooked whole and sliced and all desserts are homemade. Kay's Kitchen Ltd does over 30,000 transactions a week across the group, ranging from full roast dinners, fish, steaks, burgers and fried wok dishes to freshly prepared gourmet sandwiches, barista coffee and its own in-house baked cakes and pastry range.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Kay's Kitchen is keen to expand its range and is looking for a broader base of menu ingredients and innovation to diversify their menus.

	There is a strong preference to source from Irish suppliers. New product opportunities are mainly in ‘healthy eating’, which is an ever growing category. The company has not seen much innovation in the products presented to it.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	For Kay’s Kitchen, the main criterion when choosing a supplier is quality. Kay’s Kitchen looks to Irish suppliers that offer quality, competitive priced products. Competitive costing is hugely important in the current environment, but it can’t come at the expense of product quality. The Executive Chef takes a detailed look at the market four times per year to source the best prices from local suppliers. Suppliers are then invited to tender offers to the Executive Chef. Industry standard accreditation such as HACCP is sought from all potential suppliers. Kay’s Kitchen also carries out audits of all suppliers. There is no charge for these audits. Purchasing is carried out by each individual store through a handheld ordering system available to each store manager, which is controlled through the Head Office. Delivery is mostly to each restaurant. The Central Kitchen orders for itself and produces part-made products for each store. The Company takes in deliveries 6 days per week into all locations. Purchasing decisions for the company are made by the Executive Chef who agrees terms with potential suppliers. Electronic data interchange (EDI) is not required. The Company does not have a preferred case size for suppliers; however it has made arrangements for suppliers to collect their own outer packaging at regular intervals. Bar codes and best before dates must be very clearly displayed. A requirement for nutritional information on packaging is being introduced. The shelf life of fresh produce is required to be at least five days.
Advice to new suppliers	New suppliers should contact the Executive Chef by email and follow up with a phone call. Suppliers should be aware of our current offer, consider how their product fits with our philosophy and outline why they feel it could enhance our offer for our customers. Kay’s Kitchen looks for honesty and an upfront manner from their suppliers. The company believes it is important for a relationship to be built on trust and understanding.

Butlers Chocolate Café

Address: Butlers Chocolates, Clonshaugh Business Park, Dublin 17

Website: www.butlerschocolates.com Phone: 01 671 0599 Email: chocolate@butlers.ie

Company Profile	Butlers Chocolates was established in 1932. They opened their first chocolate café in Dublin in 1998 and now operate 19 Chocolate Cafés in Dublin, Cork, Limerick and Galway, with the majority of these located in the greater Dublin area (including two in Dublin Airport). They also have a visitor centre (the Butlers Chocolate Experience) with an onsite café located at their manufacturing facility in Dublin 17. The company has a number of international branches with 12 franchised stores located in New Zealand, Pakistan, Bangladesh and the UAE, the most recent opening being Concourse D, Dubai Airport. The Irish stores are all company-operated.
Relevant contacts	Retail Director: Michelle McBride Email: michelle@butlers.ie Phone 01 671 0599 Retail Operations Manager: Laura Hendron Email: laura@butlers.ie Phone: 01 671 0599
Product mix	Butlers Chocolate Cafes main areas of focus include chocolate, hot chocolate and speciality coffee in parallel to an extensive menu of sweet treats, including confectionery (chilled and ambient) and pastries, and a limited savoury food offer. The savoury food offer is limited to a range of gourmet sandwiches. Butlers Chocolate Cafes aspire to a very high standard of baked goods and sweet treats but do not offer any pre-wrapped or branded product apart from a gluten free range which is a growing category. Not all of the outlets can stock the full range due to space and storage restrictions.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Butlers are constantly striving for refinement of and improvement of the offer and product range and are always interested in new products of a very high standard. Opportunities exist for a variety of foods including cakes, individual desserts (of particular interest are chocolate products), tray bakes (both hot and cold) and ambient products such as muffins, scones, chocolate biscuit cakes, children's products. Other particular products of interest include breakfast products, pastries and continental sweet bakery type products and ambient goods. On the drinks side opportunities exist for Irish fruit juices and waters.

	There is limited scope for branded product within the Butlers range and the preference is for product to be sold loose as part of the Butlers Chocolate Café range.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	Butlers are always keen to look at new products, with a preference to source local products based on quality and freshness. In categories where they already have an established supply base, they prefer to operate a partnership model and stay with the same producer over a period of time. Producers should have HACCP as a minimum standard and the company will work at developing standards over time with their producers. Supplier audits are conducted regularly and there are no charges for this activity. Contact should be made with the Retail Director or Retail Operations Manager by email and once interest is signalled in your range, a small quantity of samples should be supplied. The Retail Operations Manager agrees terms, with the ordering process managed at store level via telephone orders, so a strong distribution network from the supplier is important. The preferred case size, shelf life expectations and requirements are subject to individual specs as set out with the Retail Operations Manager. The business can stock either chilled or frozen product with a preference for chilled.
Distribution providers	All distribution to Butlers Chocolate Café is provided by the individual producers. Producers are expected to supply the high volume stores in Dublin a number of times per week, but the company is willing to consider a more limited delivery service to the Galway, Cork and Limerick stores, with the option of looking at frozen products for these stores also.
Advice to new suppliers	Butlers place a strong emphasis on producers taking ownership of the account and providing good key account management skills. Suppliers should have a healthy knowledge of the business before making any approach. Because of the nature of the café business, it is also important that producers exercise flexibility in the size and shape of products produced, as very often conventional sized products do not work in this arena.
Other information	Payment terms are 30 days from invoice. No LTA agreements are in place with suppliers.

Relevant purchasing contacts	Purchasing Manager: Nathalia Bianchi Email: nathalia@insomnia.ie
Product mix	Insomnia’s primary product category is hot beverages with a strong focus on coffee. Complimentary product categories are food, baked goods, snacks and cold beverages. The company recognises the importance of keeping their product range new and exciting and introduces new products across all categories several times within a given year. The company targets a mix of customers from on-the-go to eat-in. All food is delivered pre-prepared, with no food produced on site.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Insomnia always strives for innovation and growth across all product categories. Of particular interest is gluten free food, healthy products, baked goods and snack product areas. Seasonal and holiday product is also an area of strong interest, as well as impulse products. Any unique products which can help distinguish Insomnia in the current market and assist in creating a special experience in Insomnia is something that will be considered.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	Insomnia has a preference for locally sourced product with reasonable shelf life. Shelf-life requirements are subject to individual specifications, however quality and freshness of product is key.

	The ability to produce and deliver product seven days a week is highly desired. The ability to accept orders from each individual shop is required. Suppliers must be listed with BWG and Compass Group Ireland or willing to go through the process of being listed with BWG and Compass Group Ireland in order to supply Insomnia. Producers should have HACCP as a minimum standard. Any gluten free products must also carry appropriate certification. Suppliers are frequently reviewed and audited annually to ensure product quality and suitable working conditions. Any costs involved are covered by supplier. Purchasing decisions are a collective effort made by the operations and purchasing team. Appearance, taste, quality and cost are the most important factors which influence a purchasing decision. Orders are handled directly at store level and emailed to suppliers on a daily basis. Due to limited storage and display space, smaller quantity offerings are preferred. Insomnia work to strict packaging and labelling requirements with nutritional and calorie count provided on their menu. The supplier must be able to provide relevant information as required.
Distribution providers	Majority of products are delivered directly by the supplier, however some are delivered by Zeus Disposables.
Advice to new suppliers	New suppliers should send an introductory email to the Purchasing Manager via e-mail (nathalia@insomnia.ie) and be in a position to provide samples. It is very important to be familiar with the Insomnia shop layout/space available. Product range, demographic and customer preferences are all important factors which should be reviewed to better understand if there is a product fit. Brand fit is also very important. Insomnia is open to considering a wide range of product.
Other information	Credit terms are 30 days. Each outlet has chilled and frozen storage facilities.

Itsa...

Address: Unit 54a, Blackthorn Road, Sandyford Industrial Estate, Dublin 18

Website: www.itsa.ie

Phone: 01 293 5994

Email: info@itsa.ie

Company Profile	Itsa is made up of a chain of bagel stores, restaurants, cafes and Feast, a full service catering company (profile included in the Leisure/Events section of this directory). There are 11 outlets in the Itsa Group. These are comprised of six cafés (also known as bagel stores), a full service restaurant Table, and four Joe's coffee shops. Itsa cafes are located as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Dun Laoghaire• Arnotts• The Irish Museum of Modern Art (IMMA)• Exchequer Street• Harvey Nichols, Dundrum Town Centre• Itsa Head Office, Sandyford Table restaurant is located in Brown Thomas, Cork. Joe's Coffee shops are located on Lower Liffey Street, Dublin 1; 15 Montague Street, Dublin 2; Leeson Street, Dublin 2 and Kildare Village. Itsa caters for a broad range of customers from business people to families.
Relevant purchasing contacts	Director: Roark Cassidy Email: roark@itsa.ie (preferred method of communication).
Product mix	Itsa caters for all eating occasions. The bagel stores cater for breakfasts, lunches, morning and afternoon teas and coffee and snacks. The restaurants are open for lunch and dinner and brunch on Sundays. The cuisine is modern Irish bistro with a focus on healthy, natural, tasty gourmet food. All ingredients are high quality and all menu items are cooked from scratch. Menus include gourmet bagels and sandwiches, soups, salads, home baked snacks, drinks, smoothies and organic products. Producers' names are heavily promoted on the menus where appropriate. The majority of food is prepared in the central kitchen facility in Sandyford. All food is cooked from scratch, with meats roasted in-house, no items are bought in pre-prepared. The central kitchen in Sandyford has its own pastry chef and all snacks served in Itsa outlets are home baked e.g. cookies, brownies, cakes. Producers should be aware that many of the menus are price focused, for example two courses for €20, and the producer's range of products need to fit in this bracket.

	Within the bagel stores, the new price promotional strategy is to add on an additional item to the beverage for a small amount extra. Producers should look for ways to combine their product with a beverage to create a value offering for the consumer.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	The key growth area for Itsa is to open more bagel stores with a different format and increase the offering in them. An example this is the café in the Irish Museum of Modern Art (itsa@IMMA) where the food offering is a hybrid between the bagel stores and restaurant offerings i.e. good quality salads, quiches and tarts, in addition to the standard offering of the bagel stores. Itsa is very loyal to its current suppliers (about 48), but is always looking for unique ranges of good quality products with suppliers that can offer a very good service. Good quality raw ingredients are required for new salad and hot food menu items. Key areas for growth are high quality bespoke products such as sauces, relishes, hummus and tapenades. Suppliers of these items need to be able to supply them at consistently high quality standards and in sufficient amounts. The company also sees opportunities for ‘all natural’ snack foods such as wholegrain bars that may be purchased in addition to the menu items and coffee. A further opportunity for Irish suppliers is for high quality natural beverages such as soft drinks. All the ingredients used by Itsa are sourced from Irish suppliers. Much of the meat used in the restaurants is organic and the company is a big supporter of Irish artisan products and gourmet ice-creams. Itsa has strong traceability criteria which it monitors strictly. There is room for Irish artisan brands in the operation. Itsa has both chilled and frozen storage facilities.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	Itsa has a strong preference to source local produce from Ireland. The purchasing policy of the company is quality first and then price, followed by good service. There are Long Term Agreement discounts for high volume. Deals from producers that are used to drive increased menu sales are always welcome and provide an opportunity to drive volume for producers and Itsa alike. The premises of all fresh food suppliers to Itsa are audited annually directly by the company. BRC is preferred, or HACCP providing procedures are strictly adhered to. Purchasing is centralised through Roark Cassidy, Director who should be approached in the first instance.

	Roark agrees the terms with suppliers and the Executive Chef places the orders for the central kitchen. The restaurants order 80% of their own requirements from an approved list of suppliers at centrally agreed terms. Goods are received six days per week. Orders are placed by email and also by phone and fax. The company is moving to a more automated purchasing system. The case size and shelf life requirements vary by product category and are detailed in product specifications. The company does not have any special packaging or labelling requirements for items supplied to it. Itsa has the ability to take deliveries of product pallet loads to their central kitchen in Sandyford, for which a volume discount is expected. Most supplies are delivered to the main facility in Sandymount, but some categories including milk, ice-cream and very fresh produce are delivered directly to retail outlets.
Distribution providers	Itsa deals directly with most suppliers and only uses distributors occasionally, e.g. Pallas Foods. Odaios and La Rousse are other distribution providers used by the company.
Advice to new suppliers	Potential new suppliers should contact the Director, Roark Cassidy in the first instance, preferably by email. The contact should emphasise features of the proposed product that are new and should indicate how it would fit into the Itsa operation. The unique selling point should be clearly indicated. If the initial contact is successful, a meeting and trial of samples can be arranged. Potential suppliers should not approach individual branches as all purchasing decisions are made centrally. Itsa emphasises that producers should be very familiar with its business and must have considered how their products would fit into Itsa's menus. Other issues to be considered include how deliveries fit into weekly delivery schedules and the type of packaging required. Packaging and recycling are becoming major issues for Itsa and new prospective suppliers are being asked to consider innovative ways in which packaging can be minimised, along with the possibility of using crate systems.
Other information	Payment terms are 60 days and the company will pay sooner in return for additional discounts

	Branded items are used in the Itsa operation, but must be of very high quality and are not promoted. Ista has storage facilities for both chilled and frozen foods. It mainly uses fresh produce. The only chilled and frozen items it deals in regularly are meat, dairy produce and ice-cream.

Arrangements are in place at many hotels for suppliers to collect and recycle their cardboard packaging. There are no other particular packaging requirements but all packaging must be clearly labelled and have all the legally required information. Shelf life expectations and requirements vary between products and suppliers must ascertain these from the distributors used by the group.
Distribution providers	The meat supply to Dalata Hotels in Ireland is shared between: Heaney Meats (Irish Angus); Pallas Foods and Dawn Meats All the frozen, chilled and ambient product is supplied by Pallas through a Brakes Foodservice contract from Ashbourne in Dublin. It has been a practice within Dalata to find good Irish producers and reach an agreement with Pallas / Brakes to distribute the products to all Dalata Hotels as part of the main distribution agreement. There are opportunities for good Irish suppliers to approach Dalata with a product and if the product is something Dalata want to use, then an agreement can be entered into with Brakes / Pallas Foodservice regarding distribution. Dairy produce is sourced regionally from the following distributors: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Glanbia Foods • Connacht Gold (North West) • Clona West Cork Foods (South) • Arrabawn (Galway) Fish Supply is regional with the following suppliers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Atlantis Seafoods

Breakfast, lunch and dinner are fully catered for along with weddings and Conference & Banqueting. Restaurants cater for the high end of the market, with most food cooked from scratch in each of the restaurants.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	There remain strong opportunities for good artisan products across the board, but at the right price and with well organised distribution. The group has very strong relationships with their existing suppliers, and they will look to introduce innovative new products and source products that are required. The group uses very little frozen food as a rule and this is unlikely to change. All food offerings use Irish products as much as is feasible.

Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	There exists a strong preference to source local produce. Good quality produce and products are the cornerstone of the group’s purchasing policy. Equally, ingredient pricing is an important function, particularly at the moment when keen pricing is vital to facilitate customer value and special offer menus. Suppliers’ premises are audited directly every 12 months. There is typically no charge to suppliers for these audits. Full HACCP and EHO accreditation and the most recent audit documentation must be available on request at all times. Purchasing is fully controlled on a central system through the Group General Manager, who also manages the expectations and requirements of the Head Chefs and Food & Beverage Managers at each property. Tendering is generally every 12 months, but prices are monitored regularly as part of ongoing cost reviews and regular contact is kept with all incumbent suppliers. Pricing is based on fixed prices with no particular emphasis placed on LTAs, rebates/retrospective deals. Deliveries are made six days per week and vary by product category. They must be made to each hotel individually. Payments are made through the central system at the group’s Head Office with all statements, etc. handled there.
Distribution providers	Pallas Foods, Odaios, Corrib Foods, Glanbia, La Rouse, Condrens and Michael Twomey Butchers are the predominant distributors.
Advice to new suppliers	New suppliers must be prepared before they approach the Purchasing Office, i.e. they must have done their market research and have spent time understanding and building their knowledge about the Doyle Collection business. The product offering must have a reasonable expectation to fit with the business or replace an already existing product. Distribution must be established, particularly for artisan foods. Alternatively, artisan producers should link in with one of the group’s distributors to bring forward a proposal.
Other information	Credit terms are 30 – 45 days maximum.

Produce is sourced as much as possible locally.

Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	There is an ethos of supporting local food and drink producers and new producers are welcome to approach the hotel. The group has very strong relationships with their existing suppliers. It is their opinion that existing suppliers are able to supply all their requirements. The group does not see new areas for growth in terms of product offering as they mainly buy ingredients rather than finished or part-finished products. While buying local Irish produce is important for the group, it points out that in some instances artisan producers are overly focused on production and do not afford enough time to marketing their products.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	Full traceability from source to plate is required for inclusion on menus and website for customers. Quality and pricing play a huge role in deciding factors for certain produce. HACCP certification is a pre-requisite. Suppliers are audited by the group and cost of this is borne by the group. Purchasing is centralised and the hotel works with other hotel groups from time to time to ensure better buying power and more competitive pricing. Negotiation and purchasing is mainly completed via the Executive Chef due to his existing strong relationships with suppliers. The group does not operate a formal tendering operation, so there are no key tender dates. They are very flexible about delivery windows, especially with small producers. Larger suppliers are asked to schedule their deliveries for times when staff are available for unloading. Times are negotiated with each supplier for each hotel. Orders are normally taken by telephone, but email and fax are also acceptable. The group is flexible about packaging requirements, but prefers that suppliers use returnable and recyclable packaging. There are no special requirements regarding labelling beyond what is legally required. Shelf life expectations vary between products, with daily deliveries required for certain fresh products.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • CS Fish (Doonbeg) • Clancy Lewis (fruit & vegetables) • Bally Salads (salad) • Croom Farm (eggs) • Pallas Foods and La Rousse (speciality products) Collective group purchasing is not used. Goods are delivered directly to each hotel.
Advice to new suppliers	New suppliers should contact the Executive Chef by email with any requests as he is the final decider in all purchasing matters. Suppliers are advised that they must offer a competitive quote. The hotel is keen to source artisan products from local producers as there is a strong emphasis on supporting indigenous industry.
Other information	Credit terms are 30 days. The company has LTAs (Long Term Agreements) with some suppliers, especially for items such as tea, coffee and beverages. For fresh products, LTAs are not used. There is no room for brands within the company. The Limerick Strand Hotel has both chilled and frozen storage facilities.

Relevant purchasing contacts	Purchasing Manager: Lorraine Minnock Email: lminnock@talbothotelgroup.ie Phone: 053 9122 566 Please contact each individual hotel to connect with their Head Chef.
Product mix	All hotels in the group offer breakfasts, lunches, dinners, bar food, function catering, snacks and beverages. The hotels serve a broad range of customers including business and leisure clients on long and short stays. The hotels aim to be family, as well as business oriented. A broad cuisine is served, including a range of meat, poultry, fish and vegetarian dishes and salads. Specialist ethnic dishes are not a feature of the menus. The majority of meals use fresh, local ingredients where possible. The deciding factors are quality and price. The hotel kitchens also produce jams and marmalade and some flavoured oils. These products are also on sale in the hotels. In the case of desserts, about 60 per cent are made in-house and 40 per cent bought in. Relatively few pre-prepared ingredients are used, the main exceptions being some sauce mixes and pastry cases.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Growth areas for food noted by the company are low-gluten and gluten-free foods. Food with locally produced ingredients is popular with the company's customers, provided it does not become too expensive. The company tries to provide a 'value' offering whilst being "as artisan as we are allowed to be". Supplies of all food ingredients for the hotels' menus are sourced locally as far as possible. Constraints on local sourcing are quality and price. Price is important as the hotels try to provide a good value, family friendly offering.

Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	Group Purchasing policy favours family owned and run Irish food producers. The hotels use Irish produce where possible. All the beef and fish is Irish, but some poultry and pork may be sourced from elsewhere in order to offer menus within a price range. Supplies are sourced and specified locally for each hotel, generally by the Head Chef. However, all purchases must be approved centrally. Orders for food are normally placed by the Head Chef in each hotel. Terms and conditions are set centrally by the Purchasing Manager. Communication with suppliers is generally via the Head Chefs for each hotel who meet regularly with sales representatives of suppliers and distributors. The Chefs also try to maintain regular telephone contact with suppliers and (in the case of larger suppliers), the tele-sales teams. Delivery windows are specified for suppliers. Normally a day and time are specified. Many items can be accepted between 7:30a.m. and 4:00p.m. The arrangements may vary between hotels. Suppliers are not subject to formal audits, although HACCP is insisted on where relevant. The Head Chef of a hotel would generally visit food producers' premises before finalising supply. The hotels purchase fresh rather than frozen ingredients. All vegetables and potatoes are purchased as fresh and pre-prepared, but not pre-cooked. All food supplies to the hotels must be properly sealed and wrapped according to the specification on the order. There are also strict requirements for weight per package. These are set out during the ordering process.
Distribution providers	The hotels use a variety of distributors for food and ingredient purchases. Sometimes goods are purchased directly from suppliers, e.g. beef. Other goods may be purchased via distributors such as Pallas Foods or La Rousse Foods.
Advice to new suppliers	New suppliers should make first contact with the company via the Head Chef of a particular hotel. Email is preferred as it is more convenient for 'hands on' Chefs. If the product is considered suitable, it may be referred for discussion between the supplier, the Chef and the Purchasing Manager. The key criteria for a supplier to address are quality and price. If the product is locally produced, that is a bonus.
Other information	Credit terms offered to suppliers are normally 30 days, but this may vary in individual cases. Relatively few branded items are offered to clients of the hotels' restaurants apart from sauces and condiments. Branded ingredients, such as sauce mixes and pastry products are used in the kitchens.

Product mix	The wide range of guests results in a wide variety of foodservice offerings including: formal dining, functions, breakfasts, lunches, casual dining and bar food.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Food is a huge part of the business and a critical part of the group's success over the years and presentation and quality are a fundamental element of that. Tifco advocate the importance of buying the best quality produce to achieve the best results, with chefs that are passionate about food, spending time preparing every dish and sourcing the freshest ingredients- farmed locally by Irish and local growers where possible. The company develops strong relationships with their core suppliers, in a partnership approach that supports a relentless pursuit of quality and new innovations in the kitchens and meticulously agreed specifications to ensure consistency. Tifco is also focused on sustainability and has recently signed up to the Chartered Institute of Purchasing & Supply Sustainability Index, which all of their core suppliers must register and adhere to in order to demonstrate the sustainability of their own supply chain. Sourcing the right product for their chefs is an art in its self, where price is as important as freshness, as quality, as supporting indigenous producers. The company conducts competitive tenders each year and has set up a Chef's Council to taste each new product on their menus, to ensure that their food sourcing process delivers the best food offering to their guests.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	Group purchasing policy favours family owned and run Irish food producers. Purchasing decisions are made by the Procurement Manager in close consultation with the Head Chefs of each hotel. Food supplies are delivered directly to each hotel. There is no centralised delivery and distribution system. EDI (electronic data interchange) is not used by the group. Once terms have been agreed, orders are placed by the chef at each hotel. Delivery windows must be arranged with each individual hotel. For fresh products deliveries can be required up to six days per week. Before they can supply the group, suppliers must complete a supplier questionnaire.

	First-time suppliers are also subject to audit and must have HACCP systems in place. The audit is carried out by an independent consultant hired by the group. Hotels in the Group will accept most types of packaging, however wooden packaging is not permitted in kitchens. Suppliers should make arrangements for re-cycling or collection and return of packaging. There are no special labelling requirements beyond what is required by law.
Distribution providers	Distribution is direct to each hotel or via local distributors, as this can provide a great deal of flexibility. The company maintains a preferred list of distributors.
Advice to new suppliers	Potential new suppliers should approach the Procurement Manager, who will discuss the approach with hotel chefs before making a decision. A supplier can also approach a chef directly, who will in turn contact the Procurement Manager.
Other information	Credit terms for suppliers to the Group are normally '45 days'. The group prefers to have Long Term Agreements with suppliers where possible, although the precise terms will depend on the type of food product that is supplied. TRAVEL

Aer Lingus Catering

Address: Flight Kitchen, Dublin Airport

Website: www.aerlingus.com Phone: 01 886 2632 Email: james.keaveney@aerlingus.com

Company Profile	Aer Lingus and its flight kitchen have been in operation since the 1930s. Over that period the industry has seen many changes. A team of six chefs currently prepares meals in the flight kitchen for business class passengers on the transatlantic flights. Meals for economy passengers on transatlantic flights are bought in frozen, ready to heat. Sandwiches for the in-flight trolley service are produced off-site by a separate supplier.
Relevant purchasing contacts	Head Chef: James Keaveney Email: james.keaveney@aerlingus.com Phone: 01 886 2632
Product mix	On transatlantic flights, the cuisine on offer to business class passengers is international and includes Irish, Asian and Mediterranean inspired dishes. The business class transatlantic service consists of four menus (known as rotations) which are rotated every month. Each rotation menu contains four main meal options as follows: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Red meat – beef or lamb 2) White meat – chicken or duck 3) Vegetarian 4) Fish Main dish meals for business class service are prepared from fresh ingredients, then chilled and reheated on the aircraft. Canapés, starters and desserts are bought in, chilled or frozen and re-heated on the aircraft if required. Breakfast cereals and pastry items are also bought in. An enhanced menu option is to be introduced on European flights. A passenger will be able to order and purchase an enhanced meal when making the flight booking. Aer Lingus also provides a catering service for some other airlines.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	There are up to 120 meals per day produced in the flight kitchen for the business class transatlantic service. Where possible, Irish ingredients are used in the flight kitchen. When the menus are redesigned, opportunities will exist for new suppliers to propose products and menu suggestions. Menus duration is normally 18 to 24 months. Items for the enhanced menu will be produced by existing suppliers.

	The number of economy passenger meals on the transatlantic service varies from 1,200 to 2,200 per day and depends on the number of passengers travelling. The economy meals are currently produced in Ireland. They are bought in frozen, ‘tempered down’ in the flight kitchen and then heated on the aircraft. In addition to the above, approximately 2,000 sandwiches are purchased daily for the trolley service. These are currently produced in Northern Ireland. Tenders for trolley service food items are generally set against a three year period. Aer Lingus is currently reducing the number of suppliers and introducing a more automated ordering and supply system. This is with a view to streamlining its operations and reducing costs. Tender announcements and details are available on the website www.etenders.gov.ie. Areas in which there may be growth include ‘healthy eating’ and Halal products. As more airlines fly to the middle-east and beyond, or use Dublin as a hub for flights to the USA, the possibilities for suppliers of Halal products may increase. Where possible, only Irish ingredients are used in the Aer Lingus flight kitchen. All the production of sandwiches and economy meals is outsourced to producers on the island of Ireland. Thus the opportunities for import substitution are limited. Innovative new products that are suitable for airline catering are deemed few and far between due to the specific requirements for in-flight catering – such as shelf-life, traceability and the ability to be re-heated.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	The purchasing policy is to procure the specified quality at a competitive price. Suppliers are subject to a food safety audit by Aer Lingus, which uses its own audit criteria. There is no charge for these audits. Purchasing is centralised through the Head Chef, the Catering Manager and the Purchasing Department. The procedure is to take three quotes and then take samples. The Head Chef reviews samples from various suppliers to meet a particular need. Prices are reviewed and agreed with the Catering Manager. The Purchasing Department reviews price, quality, specifications and logistics of the proposed product in advance of auditing the supplier. Factors other than price are very important.

	The chefs advise the Purchasing Department of quantities to be ordered. Suppliers receive orders from the Purchasing Department via email or telephone. This procedure is in the process of becoming more automated. Deliveries are received Monday to Friday, with the exception of bread and sandwich deliveries which are received seven days per week. In relation to preferred packaging, Aer Lingus prefers products to be delivered in plastic baskets that are the property of the supplier. The supplier should be in a position to take back empty baskets as they supply full ones. If possible, the use of wooden packaging and pallets is to be avoided. Wooden packaging is not allowed into the flight kitchen. There are no particular packaging requirements for deliveries to Aer Lingus other than those specified above. Particular requirements may be specified in the purchasing terms. Labels must meet all legal requirements and state best before dates, whether the contents are fresh or frozen and whether they may be reheated from frozen. Halal certification must also be stated where segregation is required for Halal specified foods. Shelf-life requirements are generally long and many products may not meet airline requirements because of this e.g. the shelf-life requirement for muffins is six weeks.
Distribution providers	Distributors to the flight kitchen include Pallas Foods, La Rousse, BWG and Musgrave Foodservices. A number of suppliers (including meat and fresh produce) deliver directly.
Advice to new suppliers	New suppliers should contact the Head Chef, preferably by email and arrange to send in samples for review. Potential suppliers should be aware of the need for consistency and reliability in relation to both the product and the delivery schedule. Producers should be pro-active in contacting and communicating with the Head Chef.
Other information	Aer Lingus catering has Long Term Agreements i.e. over one year, with several suppliers. The terms of the agreement will tend to vary based on the product and the length of the previous relationship with the supplier. Long Term Agreements regarding fresh produce pricing are not always possible.

	Brands are used where customers expect to see them and can be an important part of the in-flight food offering. Aer Lingus is a strong brand in its own right and this can help suppliers. The proportions of chilled and frozen foods have remained constant. Aer Lingus is open to contact from potential suppliers with products delivering new opportunities.

Relevant purchasing contacts	Maggie Finnegan Email: maggie.finnegan@hmshost.net
Product mix	Selection of locally sourced products, with a mix of some international brands.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Although a global company, HMShost fully supports local suppliers and producers where possible. It is HMShost's philosophy to combine international brands with local companies, as this strategy reflects their target customers. These consist of a mix of Irish and non-Irish travellers. All products sold by the company are sourced from local producers and suppliers. If there is a certain product that cannot be obtained through an Irish producer, then an alternative item will be used.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	HMShost has a strong preference to source local produce. All suppliers to HMS Host must be HACCP compliant and registered with the Food Safety Authority of Ireland (FSAI). Audits required to achieve certification must be paid for by the supplier. Within a tender process for product categories, HMShost tries to involve as many local companies as possible. From a purchasing and supply chain point of view, HMShost tries to combine as many suppliers into one overall distribution network as possible. This is to help reduce the number of deliveries into each airport. HMS Host aims to use one distributor for most stock items.

	The agreement of terms is done as part of the tender process where the three parties (HMSSHost, producer and distributor) agree on the financials, fees, stocking levels etc. All financials are taken into account in a tender round. Contact is through the Assistant Purchasing Manager for Ireland. Orders are placed by the locations themselves. Deliveries are both daily and weekly. Ordering from suppliers is by fax. Websites are not used for purchasing and Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) is not required. The company does not have a preferred case size or any particular labelling requirements. All packaging must have full traceability attached to the label. Details are agreed in the tender process.
Distribution providers	HMSSHost has a small number of distributors that handle their stocks and deliver to the different airports on a regular basis. Frequent deliveries from distributors are used in order to reduce stock levels at the airport, to facilitate less handling at the airports and to ensure a frequent supply offer to their units.
Advice to new suppliers	Contact Maggie Finnegan for Ireland via email in the first instance.
Other information	The company uses a mix of Irish and international brands at each of its locations. It has both chilled and frozen storage facilities.

Irish Ferries

Address: Irish Ferries, P.O. Box 19, Alexandra Road, Dublin 1

Website: www.irishferries.com

Phone: 01 607 5700

Company Profile	Irish Ferries is a marine transport operator. As part of Irish Continental Group PLC, the company operates a multi-purpose ferry fleet on the Dublin-Holyhead route, Rosslare-Pembroke route and between Rosslare and the ports of Cherbourg and Roscoff in France. Its core businesses are passenger and freight transportation. The passenger services consist of motor, coach and foot passengers travelling to and from Ireland either from or via the UK or directly to Ireland from France. The main reasons for these journeys are holidays and business. In 2016 the company carried 1.623 million passengers. Irish Ferries operate galleys on all their services and are significant players in the foodservice market. The fleet is summarised below: Motor Vessel (MV) Isle of Inishmore serves the Rosslare to Pembroke route and caters for up to 2,200 passengers per single trip. MV Oscar Wilde serves the Rosslare to Cherbourg and Rosslare to Roscoff routes and caters for up to 1,600 passengers per single trip. MV Epsilon is the latest vessel to join the Irish Ferries fleet. The vessel operates on the Dublin Holyhead route (Tuesday to Saturday) and offers a direct Dublin to Cherbourg route each weekend. The “economy” styled vessel caters for up to 600 passengers and their cars. MV Ulysses serves the Dublin to Holyhead route and caters for up to 1,900 passengers per single trip. It is the largest passenger ferry in the world, as a result of its large vehicle carrying capacity. High Speed Craft (HSC) Jonathon Swift serves the Dublin to Holyhead route and caters for up to 800 passengers per single trip. A wide range of customers purchase food on the company’s ferries, with more meal purchases taking place on the Ireland – France routes.
Relevant purchasing contacts	On Board Services Manager: Fergal Kelly Email: fergal.kelly@irishferries.com Phone: 01 607 5700
Product mix	On board there are separate eating facilities for crew and passengers. All the MV vessels have complete galleys and cook food from scratch, except for bread, dry goods, breakfast cereals and fresh fruit and vegetables.

	For safety reasons, the high speed craft does not have a full galley. Some of the bread requirements are baked on board. Sandwiches and desserts are also made on board. The MV Isle of Inishmore has one food outlet which serves hot and cold meals. MV Epsilon has one food outlet which serves hot and cold meals. The MV Oscar Wilde has three food outlets. A waiter service restaurant, a steak house, and a cafeteria type restaurant that caters for families (serving pizza, chicken, chips, fish, burgers, sausages etc). The MV Ulysses has a carvery service restaurant for the public and a second carvery service restaurant for commercial drivers. The HSC Jonathan Swift has one main food outlet on board which includes a carvery offering. All vessels serve healthy and vegetarian options.
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Cost competitiveness and quality of product, along with timely delivery and back up service, are considered to be essential qualities of a successful supplier. Cost competitiveness is becoming an increasingly important consideration. The company does not see many areas for new products or growth in product ranges. At the moment there is a tendency to retrench to traditional items in line with reduced consumer spending. The company does not see opportunities for import substitution as it has a policy of supplying Irish made foodstuffs where possible.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	A template is maintained of all the products and quantities purchased. This template is sent out to relevant suppliers who are invited to tender for the business. Suppliers should contact the Purchasing Manager to establish the next tender date. After quality, price and the ability to meet the delivery windows are the key criteria in making a purchasing decision. The ships are supplied directly by suppliers. Thus suppliers can only deliver whilst the ships are in port. The delivery windows change with the seasons and current docking times can be checked via the company's website. Irish Ferries reserve the right to conduct a HACCP audit of all suppliers. This audit is conducted by Irish Ferries and there is no charge.

	The ships email their orders to the Purchasing Department which inputs the orders into the company's ordering system and forwards the orders on to suppliers via email. Purchasing is centralised through the Purchasing Manager. The supply base is constantly under review. Irish Ferries does not have preferences for the packaging of the foodstuffs supplied. The only labelling requirements are that the labels conform to the law. Items with a long shelf-life are preferred, resulting in a preference for frozen over chilled products. Chilled food products are not used, except for milk, dairy products and spreads. Deliveries of fresh vegetables are required twice a week as a minimum.
Distribution providers	Both direct supply to the ships and supply via a distributor are possible. All of Ireland's leading distributors supply Irish Ferries. As distributors are subject to change, current distribution options should be discussed with the Purchasing Manager.
Advice to new suppliers	Contact should be made with the On Board Services Manager via phone or email. Samples will be requested and should be sent free of charge directly to the vessels for comment on their suitability. If there is interest from the vessels, prices should then be sent to the On Board Services Manager. Direct supply to the ships from producers must be possible. To achieve this, the majority of suppliers use interim distributors. The first test for new products is that they are acceptable to the passengers on the ships. If the products pass this test, price and supply arrangements may be discussed with the On Board Services Manager.
Other information	Credit terms for Irish Ferries are 30 days. The company has LTAs (Long Term Agreements) with some suppliers. Brands are used where they are recognised by and requested by passengers on the ships.

Labels must include an EU licence number where appropriate (e.g. for meat) and must also include nutritional and allergen information. Within a tender process for product categories, Retail inMotion tries to involve as many local companies as possible. From a purchasing and supply chain point of view, Retail inMotion likes to combine multiple suppliers into one overall distribution network. This is to help reduce the number of deliveries into each airport. Retail inMotion aims to use one distributor for most stock items. Agreement of terms is done as part of the tender process where the three parties (Retail inMotion, producer and distributor) agree on financials, fees, stocking etc. All financials are taken into account in a tender round. All contact is through the Product Manager.

Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Local products are actively promoted in locations as part of our sustainability, farmers market and health and wellness seminars. The company assesses each of its categories individually and sources local produce that will fit into these categories. Aramark continually looks for local products from local suppliers across our Northern European business. The company is examining potential efficiencies across the supply chain and is heavily focused on sustainability.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	Aramark is committed to buying locally where possible. The default position is to buy locally, even if this incurs a slight additional cost. If a product is not made in country, the company attempts to source it from within the EU. The focus has moved from product ‘handled’ in country, to product manufactured and grown in country. At Aramark 90% of protein and vegetables are purchased fresh, as opposed to frozen. Aramark has stringent food safety requirements and supplier selection processes. Suppliers are audited by an in-house team whose standards are based on ISO 22000 requirements.

Both chilled and frozen storage facilities are available on each site. Aramark expects their suppliers to be compliant in terms of packaging and labelling requirements, with a strong focus on health and wellness in advance of calorie counting being introduced.
Distribution providers	Pallas Foods are the preferred Distribution Partner for all food and related consumable items. This provides local producers with limited coverage, the ability to access all Aramark locations. Small “direct to store” suppliers are also accommodated, however they need to meet specific requirements in terms of Food Safety, Insurance and Invoicing.
Advice to new suppliers	Suppliers should put together a proposal on why a product will work and what it will add to Aramark’s portfolio. Suppliers should also think through distribution options and be prepared to work with a distributor. The proposal should be emailed to the Supply Chain Group at purchasing@aramark.ie The buyer has limited time to assign to any one project, therefore the most immediately beneficial projects to Aramark Northern Europe will take precedence. It is important that new suppliers research the fit of their products with the business and also their ability to be aligned with their central distribution network or EDI. Suppliers should also be proactive in marketing their products. Also watch out for Aramark’s Supplier Search program which is a key feature of the bi-annual Catex exhibition.
Additional information	Credit terms are 45 days. There is room for brands in the company’s operation. The company has both chilled and frozen storage facilities.

Corporate Catering Services Limited

Address: Richmond House, Corofin, Co. Clare

Website: www.ccsl.ie

Phone: 065 683 7300

Email: info@ccsl.ie

Company Profile	Corporate Catering Services Limited (CCSL) is Ireland's largest, independent contract catering company with a diverse portfolio of clients across many sectors including staff catering and hospitality, business and industry, healthcare, education and transport. CCSL has diversified into new areas of catering activity such as trains, prestigious training centres and on-site bars. The diversity of their client base inspires their staff by exposure to different styles of cooking. This inspiration is also drawn from food fairs, innovative retailers and a very active food forum where new ideas are developed and circulated. Food quality and integrity is very important to CCSL and they only deal with reputable local suppliers who can provide the flexible, frequent service they demand. Confidence in 'quality' is high on their customers' agenda. Their customers need to know that the product is not only good for them, but increasingly, has minimal impact on the environment. Established in 1991 by Mary Healy, and still very much owner-managed, the company takes a 'hands on' approach to doing business. Each catering operation is different to reflect the culture, ethos and needs of the client. Simplicity is at the core of everything the company does, from the style of food, to the company's open and honest accounting policies.
Relevant purchasing contacts	Procurement and Purchasing Manager: Mary King Email: info@ccsl.ie Phone: 065 683 7300
Product mix	CCSL chefs draw their inspiration from international influences, classic regional dishes and old-fashioned traditional favourites to create nutritious and delicious meals every day and for every occasion. The food offer is constantly evolving to reflect changing tastes, trends and the diversity of the client base. Ranging from breakfasts and lunches to fine dining, hospitality, banqueting, vending services and pub food, everything is cooked on-site using fresh ingredients. The only prepared to heat products sourced are frozen products such as vol-au-vents and pastries.

Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	CCSL is always looking for innovative, creative ideas for new products from its suppliers. They are interested in products for ‘out of hours’ services, such as vending machines. These products need to reconstitute to a quality product and packaging needs to be of a high quality. The most popular and versatile type of dish for this purpose would be chicken. The company is particularly interested in healthy Irish sourced products with an emphasis on low salt, fat and sugar content to support its Nutrition Matters healthy eating initiative. CCSL menus are designed to give customers a nutritious and balanced diet while never compromising on taste, flavour and quality. During food preparation, CCSL’s chefs substitute salt and sugar with healthy alternatives. Working to tight profit margins in a challenging and competitive market sector, cost is always a consideration, but quality remains a key factor in any purchasing decisions made. Seasonality is also important. The company’s policy is to use local suppliers wherever possible. This offers quality Irish food and drink producers an opportunity to supply and support its portfolio of clients throughout Ireland, from Wexford to Belfast and from Dublin to Sligo.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	As an Irish company, CCSL has a preference to source local produce where quality and price compare favourably with imported alternatives. Service is important for purchasing decisions and tenders. Supplier requirements are HACCP and relevant health board approvals. CCSL carries out audits of suppliers premises and there is no charge for this. Purchasing is centralised at Head Office but deliveries are made to sites throughout Ireland. Tenders for all supplies are carried out annually in October or November for the following year. The Procurement and Purchasing Manager makes the purchasing decisions, agrees the terms and places the orders. The frequency of goods inwards is between five to seven days, depending on the product. The majority of orders are placed by phone.
Distribution providers	All of CCSL’s purchasing is direct with suppliers and handled in-house.

Advice to new suppliers	Potential suppliers should send an expression of interest via email and when products are being reviewed during the tender process, CCSL will revert to them. CCSL likes innovative new ideas, strong branding and marketing support.

Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	The core list of ingredients tends to remain unchanged with variety and flair introduced via the company's Executive Chef and craft development team. Chef forums are organised on a regular basis, at which new recipe ideas and best practices are shared with chefs from the various sites. These forums provide an opportunity for the development chefs to demonstrate new products that have been approved by the Buying Manager. Inclusion of products in a chef forum can be arranged via the Buying Manager. There is an ongoing drive to buy Irish and the company sources as much product as possible from local suppliers and artisan producers. 72% of food ingredients used is of Irish origin including 100% Irish Beef, Lamb, Eggs, and Milk products.

All new products of interest are first reviewed by the company’s taste panel headed by the Craft Development Chef. If the product passes this test, then pricing is reviewed. The next step in the purchasing process is a food safety audit of the supplier by Sodexo Safeguard, the company’s food safety division. The audit criteria are set by Sodexo and a charge applies for this. Purchasing is centralised through the Sodexo Supply Management team. The opinions of the Craft Development Chef and taste panel are taken into account when arriving at a purchasing decision. Pricing is benchmarked against UK prices which are provided by Sodexo UK. Although key tender dates are not fixed, all major contracts for supply are for a fixed term. The length of the term varies and is set by the Buying Manager. For major ingredients, a single supplier is preferred. For example, all beef to the ROI sites is supplied by one company and another company supplies beef to NI. Each site places its own orders. Sodexo’s Corporate Sustainability policy and priorities are structured under the Sodexo Better Tomorrow 2025 programme, details of which can be found at the Sodexo corporate website. Advice to new suppliers	All approaches should be directed to the Senior Category Manager via email in the first instance.
Other information	Over the last 18 months Sodexo has restricted its support functions to provide a fit for purpose and consumer led approach. The newly formed “Food Platform” will become critical stakeholders for Sodexo’s supplier partners, and will look to work collaboratively on consumer insight and product development. While continuing to recognise the important regional variances, the region of UK & Ireland is managed under a single Supply Management team, opening up opportunities for suppliers to potentially widen their coverage. There is room for brands in the operation, however Sodexo has a range of internal brands which vary according to the business sector, and are quality and value driven.

Defence Forces

Address: SO Food and Catering Procurement , Ordnance Branch,
McKee Barracks, Blackhorse Avenue, Dublin 7

Website: www.military.ie Phone: 01 804 6098 Email: rory.esler@defenceforces.ie

Company Profile	The Defence Forces central purchasing office is responsible for managing the purchasing of food and front of house provisions (this includes Navy and Air Corps). There are 17 military locations nationwide including Air Corps in Baldonnel Aerodrome and Naval Service in Haulbowline, Co. Cork. In 2016, about 725,000 meals were prepared by the Defence Forces. The value of food purchased annually is approx. €3.25 million.
Relevant purchasing contacts	Tenders for supplies to the Defence Forces are made via the website www.etenders.gov.ie and suppliers should monitor this site. All food procurement contracts for the Irish Public Service (including the Defence Forces) are now handled by the Office of Government Procurement (OGP). www.ogp.gov.ie Individual orders on a day-to-day basis for successful tenderers are normally handled by individual barracks. The purchasing contact is Commandant Rory Esler.
Product mix	All types of food, but mainly fresh products as meals are cooked from scratch with a variety of meal occasions – breakfasts/ snacks/ main meals, as well as silver service events. Nearly all the meat and vegetable products used are purchased fresh i.e. unprocessed. A 21-day rolling menu is used and this is designed by the Defence Forces School of Catering. All meat products are fully traceable from farm to table. Also offered are individual portioned 24 hour “Operational Ration Packs” (ORPs) designed by the Defence Forces, each of which contains at least 4,000 calories. These are tendered for separately via the e-tenders website (www.etenders.gov.ie). Virtually none of the food offerings are purchased in ‘ready to cook’, or ‘ready to heat’ format (apart from ORPs).
Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Suppliers should monitor the public procurement e-tenders website (www.etenders.gov.ie) for upcoming tenders and/or supply larger distributors as routes to supply. The requirements of the Defence Forces purchases are largely for fresh, unprocessed products. Changes to the existing purchasing pattern are not anticipated.

	The majority of food supplied to the Defence Forces is sourced from Irish suppliers. The pre-prepared ‘Operational Ration Pack’ is not currently sourced in Ireland as economies of production and sales volumes required suggest that it is unlikely to be a profitable line for an Irish producer.
Purchasing policy and supplier requirements	Service and flexibility to supply at very short notice is critical e.g. late evening/weekends, as troops may be deployed with as little as 6 hours’ notice. Distributors are audited at a minimum of once a year for HACCP compliance. This would not involve primary producers’ premises. There is no charge anticipated for these audits/inspections. The trend is towards longer term tender contracts e.g. three to five years. This is line with the current OGP public procurement policy. Most key suppliers have now moved to longer term contracts. Nearly all food purchasing decisions are made at barracks level, including purchase terms and order placing. The government e-tender system is used widely. Each barracks has frequent delivery windows, which are agreed locally between the barracks and suppliers. The preferred method of ordering is via email although other means are also used. Electronic Data Interchange, (EDI) is not required for supplies to the Defence Forces. The Defence Forces do not have rigid rules regarding containers and packaging, most forms are acceptable. Labels must conform to standard industry legal requirements. Shelf-life expectancy and requirements are negotiated at the barracks level.
Distribution providers	Various distributors are used at present and these may offer a route to market for potential suppliers.
Advice to new suppliers	All purchasing is conducted through the e-tenders website. No samples are required unless the supplier is shortlisted as part of the tender process. Each location has excellent chilled, frozen and ambient storage. The navy requires only one delivery location, rather than multiple locations. Products are then further divided for shore use or supply to naval vessels.

Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	Musgrave Wholesale Partners works hard to support Irish products, but suppliers need to be increasingly aware of the pressures to provide value. Musgrave Marketplace launched its inaugural FoodService Academy in conjunction with Bord Bia in 2016. There were nine Irish food and drink companies involved in the programme. It took place over four months and comprised of workshops and mentoring sessions, sharing practical insights and experience with the companies involved. This programme will continue working with new Irish food and drink companies. The team are continuously looking for new and innovative products across the ambient and chilled sectors which can provide an opportunity for artisan producers. Within the ambient catering sector, the main growth areas are in desserts, speciality foods and enhanced coffee offering. As a result of the current climate, more and more foodservice customers are now looking for greater value as they come under increasing pressure to increase their gross profit. Private label or own brands will be a key growth area within ambient. There are also opportunities for new value products as there is tremendous growth in ‘value’ products and tertiary labels. Value continues to be a driver. Another growth area is ethnic ingredients across all categories, chilled, frozen, and ambient.

	Within the chilled sector, Musgrave Wholesale Partners is seeing growth in demand for fresh meat. Opportunities exist for fresh meat suppliers as fresh meat remains a key focus. In particular for fresh meat raw, cooked and value added product. Bakery and Ready Meals are also areas for development. Party foods are also an area where opportunities exist for the right products. In the Cash & Carry business, Asian products are currently trading well, with rice and sauces showing significant growth and recent expansion into Indian, Japanese and Thai products have widened the product ranges. Musgrave Wholesale Partners encourages suppliers to make contact regarding any products/product ranges or solutions they may have in the growth areas of Asian, fast food and pubs.

The Category Managers and Trading Managers research suppliers through national and international trade shows and their own trends research. Information on potential new products and suppliers is also provided through feedback from the sales representatives who have direct contact with the foodservices customers and understand their requirements.
Supplier requirement and ordering procedure	For all product categories there is an Approved Vendor Questionnaire (AVQ) which must provide evidence of health board or other QA accreditations and approvals. If there are any discrepancies in the AVQ, then the suppliers are automatically audited. Most suppliers are audited either by Musgrave Wholesale Partners or MRPI (Musgrave Retail Partners Ireland). All suppliers must be compliant in terms of barcodes, EDI order and invoicing and agreed delivery procedures. In particular, packaging must be suitable for the Cash & Carry environment with branding, bar codes and legal requirements clearly displayed on all packs. In addition all suppliers must engage with Brandbank, an online content management company, to share imagery and product information for the company's web shop.
Geographical spread	Delivered Republic of Ireland: Nationwide through cross dock network Dublin, Cork, Kerry, Limerick, Galway & Waterford. Northern Ireland: Through Belfast cross dock (via Dublin).

The sales and telesales teams also alert customers to new products between catalogue publishing dates. Customers’ orders for the Delivered business are placed via telesales or online. Sales figures and reports are made available to suppliers during meetings with their appointed Trading Manager.
Advice to new suppliers	Potential suppliers should approach the company via email to the relevant Category Manager. The Category Manager will then put the supplier in contact with the relevant Trading Manager. When meeting the Trading Manager (buyer), suppliers should come prepared with a PowerPoint or hardcopy presentation providing an overview of their business, the proposed product range and pricing along with product samples. If targeting the Cash & Carry business, distribution solutions need to be provided outlining the product delivery schedule to the thirteen sites or alternatively confirming delivery to Musgrave MarketPlace central location. Musgrave Wholesale Partners are always interested in products that are different, unique and in particular if they offer exclusivity to the Musgrave Excellence brand. Promotional calendars aimed at Chefs need to be put in place in Cash & Carry sites to help drive sales, together with training for the telesales team.

	Producers should research customers and end consumers to establish the potential interest in their products. This will give Musgrave Wholesale Partners a good idea of the market for the supplier's products.

	Producers need to appreciate that the foodservice market is totally different from retail. Products may need to be reformulated and packaged differently for foodservice due to different cooking and storage requirements.

Opportunities for Irish food and drink suppliers	There is still growth in cheese boards in the restaurant trade. Sheridan’s has found that the current economic climate has led to a greater awareness of, and preference for, Irish products. Consumers are seeking out Irish products across all areas, but price is also very important. Growth areas and opportunities for Irish producers are in unique and modern foods across a wide variety of categories. The main scope for import substitution is in cured meats and meat products. Sheridan’s sees openings for many products in various different markets that can succeed if the quality is right.
Purchasing policy	Sheridan’s prefers to buy locally produced goods and deal only directly with the producers of same. In making a purchasing decision, quality and taste are the most important criteria. Consideration is also given to the saleability of the product, the price, the shelf life, packaging, availability of the product and the professionalism of the producer. Sheridan’s is not listed for central billing with group organisations for wholesale sales. Purchasing decisions are influenced by all the sales staff along with the wholesale and retail managers. Sheridans sourcing policy for taking on new products is to only deal with producers who wish to deal solely through Sheridans distribution chain, in order for them to continue to offer unique products to their wholesale customers.

Producers and prospective suppliers may make presentations to the sales representative.

Unsolicited samples should not be sent. For local producers to one of the Sheridan's stores seeking a retail listing only, the Store Manager has autonomy over purchasing and should be contacted directly. Producers should ensure that they have done their research and established that there is a market for their products early on in the product development process. They should also familiarise themselves with Sheridans purchasing policy. The main criteria for a product to feature on Sheridan's distribution list is quality.
